Trenton Board of Education Receives Certificate of Occupancy for the new Trenton Central High School

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

August 20, 2019

Trenton - The wait is finally over! Trenton Board of Education is pleased to announce that it has officially received possession of the new Trenton Central High School. The new Trenton Central High School is a state-of-the-art $155 million-dollar, 350,000 square-foot facility designed to educate Trenton students in grades 10 through 12. The facility will be ready for students at the start of school on September 9, 2019.

The new Trenton Central High School facility provides numerous spaces designed to extend opportunities to our students' for their growth and development. These spaces include an expansive media center, auditorium, 2,000-seat gymnasium, auxiliary gym, cardio fitness room, weight room, an outdoor amphitheater, and an outdoor student commons/dining area adjoining the cafeteria.

“The new Trenton Central High School facility will serve as a powerful tool for generations of Trentonians as we strive to ensure all students are prepared to succeed in their choice of college or career,” said Superintendent of Schools Dr. Fred McDowell.

The excitement around the new facility is intense and the District looks forward to opening the doors and sharing the facility with the community and all who were instrumental in this long, difficult process.

“The Trenton Board of Education is excited and eagerly anticipating the opening of the brand new Trenton Central High School. This new school represents an opportunity to offer our students unparalleled learning experiences in an environment that will support them in becoming truly “future ready”. This is certainly a reason for our district, and our community to not only celebrate, but unite around the common cause of providing the best educational opportunities for all of our students”, said Board President Addie Lane.

The District will host multiple events at the new facility to celebrate the momentous occasion. Details of the opening events will be forthcoming.
